Two More Deaths From Cholera Reported

HASTEN EFFORT TO STOP SPREAD

Senate Now Rushes Bill To Regulate Manufacture of Poi.

CHOLERA SITUATION.

Two more deaths reported this morning, both victims male Hawaiians. Drastic quarantine ordered. Bathing at Waikiki Beach stopped. Ban placed on surface water in Manoa Valley. Senate hurrying passage of bill to make poi shops sanitary. Resolution introduced in House calling for investigation of recent deaths and production of proof that they are due to cholera. U. S. leprosy investigation staff devotes attention to tracing cholera infection. Temporary appointment of city physician to succeed Dr. Bruce Mackall, resigned.

The deaths of two Hawaiians at an early hour this morning from Asiatic cholera, after sickness of but a few hours, and the absolute diagnosis of the cause as the dreaded disease by the Federal physician has been followed by quick action by the Territorial Board of Health.

All of the quarantine regulations that were in force during the recent epidemic will be placed in operation again with even more rigorous restrictions.

Bathing at Waikiki beach from Diamond Head to the westerly side of the Kalia channel will be forbidden and strong regulations will be put into effect in upper Manoa Valley, where it is practically certain the infected taro has been grown.

Dr. D. H. Currie, under whose supervision the entire staff of the Federal Leprosy Investigation Station is working on the cholera cases, stated this morning that the new cases had been traced absolutely to the South street poi shop that was opened while the City and County officials had control of the situation and which President Mott-Smith of the Board of Health again stated this morning he would not have reopened under any circumstances.

The two deaths this morning were those of David Kaimahana, an able-bodied Hawaiian, about fifty-six years of age and David Kahoono, forty-seven years of age.

Kaimahana was taken from a small alley off Huihu Lane at 8 o'clock last night, the case being reported to the health authorities by Dr. C. B. Wood. He died at 1 o'clock this morning and after a post mortem established the fact of cholera the remains were cremated.

Kahoono was taken from a house on Punchbowl street and is believed to have been a contact case with the first new case that appeared Wednesday, having been doing some duty as a guard in connection with the preventative measure undertaken by the Board of Health. He died at 3 o'clock this morning and that he was a victim of cholera was established beyond doubt.

What is considered to be the absolute certainty of the disease being spread by poi is the fact that the two new cases and even the contact case were eating poi manufactured in the condemned South street shop. The taro used by the Chinese came from Manoa and as a result the most stringent regulations will be enforced in the Manoa districts.

Swimming at Waikiki is to be forbidden because a stream that has its source near the taro patches in upper

SENATE NOW APPROVES POI BILL

FIFTY-FIRST DAY.

The poi bill was passed on second reading in the Senate this morning, the upper house of the Legislature going on record as experiencing a change of mind. The only Senator to explain his reasons for changing his vote on the bill, however, was Senator Chillingworth, who, as chairman of the health committee, discussed from the report of the majority favoring the passage of the bill.

"I wish to say that my opinion on the question of county control remains as at first," asserted Chillingworth. "I believe that the initiative in local health matters should rest with the county officials. The charges made in the morning paper in reference to poi shops apply just as much to the Board of Health as they do to the county. If the Board of Supervisors and the city and county physician had enough executive ability to carry out the duties which were drafted for the board by President Mott-Smith, there would be no need of passing the poi bill. I am convinced, however, after an examination of the poi shops of the city, that the best thing for us to do is to pass this bill. I believe President Mott-Smith is an honest and conscientious official."

WAR DEPARTMENT NOT DECIDED ON FORT SHAFTER

(Special Bulletin Cable.)
WASHINGTON, April 15.—The War Department has not reached a final decision as to the abandonment of Schofield Barracks and centralization of troops at Fort Shafter.

This cable received this morning from the Bulletin's Washington correspondent is in response to a request that he investigate the local rumor that the War Department intends to increase Fort Shafter to accommodate all the troops stationed on this island and abandon the plan to erect a permanent post at Lihue. It would appear from this that the Department is very seriously considering the centralization scheme.

The Senate deferred action this morning on the House amendments to Senate Bill No. 47, reducing the pay of some of the circuit court attaches, but increasing the actual total of the bill by providing two interpreters considered unnecessary by the Senate.

House Bill No. 249 was reported on by the select Oahu committee, providing for the purchase of land belonging to the Kapiolani Estate on Punchbowl and appropriating $20,000 for that purpose.

FRUITMEN SHIPPERS' TAX RAIDING LABOR To Be Probed

One hundred laborers from the other islands came in on the Mauna Kea this morning.

It is stated that these people are bound for California, they having been solicited by emigrant agents working in the interests of California packers that want fruit pickers.

Just what the movements of these people will be, is not yet known as the agents have been working very much under cover.

It is apparent however that California has become thoroughly imbued with the idea that Hawaii is the place to get laborers, and although the Alaska cannery have cried enough, the fruit packers intend to take a hand in the game and get all the labor they can from the islands.

No statement has yet been secured from those who believe the recent laws passed by the Legislature are too radical and "drastic" in the protection of the industries of Hawaii from Pacific Coast trade.

LABORERS STRIKE AT 'FRISCO;

Coast newspapers received today tell not only of the strike for higher wages started by the Filipinos, Portuguese and other emigrants recruited here as soon as they got to San Francisco, but give an idea as well of the drastic action taken by the Alaska Packers' Association to keep what men they could. The men complained that they were lured to San Francisco by false tales of high wages. It appears from the stories that the packers will in the end get only a few of those who left Honolulu, the others being now adrift, homeless and without work in San Francisco.

It appears also that the reason for the raid on Hawaii's labor is that the packers are trying to get their own labor this year, whereas in former years the labor was furnished by Chinese contractors. This year the packers hired a Chinese firm, Chu Chu & Co., as agents, and the money loss will fall upon the agents and the packers as well.

The San Francisco Call of April 7 gives the following interesting account of the strike:

"Labor troubles of a south seas' type found their way into the economic burdens of San Francisco yesterday afternoon, when a band of 267 laborers, composed of Filipinos and Hawaiians, shipped here by contract on the steamer Korea to work in the canneries of the Alaska Packers' Association, flatly refused to proceed and squatted down on the edge of the Pacific Mail pier gave themselves up to song. The agents of the association begged, stormed and pleaded. They waved aloft the contracts, ready to be signed. They spoke in three languages and with many gesticulations; but inasmuch as the burden of their speech did not contain the requisite price, the appeals of eloquence changed to profanity."

"The islanders heeded them not. They tinkered their melodious tunks on their guitars and mandolins, and departing in a body to the Filipino club in Stockton street near Jackson left behind them the echo of the Hawaiian song of farewell."

"Aloha oe, aloha oe, until we meet again."

"The complaint of the men was that they had been brought to San Francisco."

Special Meeting of Merchants' Association Called To Discuss Levy

Discussion of the shippers' wharf tax will be the chief purpose of a special meeting of the Merchants' Association called for 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon by President White. A large attendance is requested.

This special meeting is called at the request of Fred L. Waldron, who wants to know more of the administration of the shippers' wharf tax funds. If more can not be learned, he wants to know why.

This question has been agitated from time to time, but on every occasion word has been passed around that has resulted in a quieting of the envious and the wharf tax has constantly gone forward in the same old way. There is no accounting whatever.

It is claimed by many merchants that as the Legislature is now considering the tax bill, this voluntary wharf tax, levied against some and not paid by large shippers of coal, lumber, oil, etc., should be thoroughly discussed and the exact position of the merchant determined. If more money is needed for unsolicited campaigns and so forth, they see no reason why the tax should not be under a general levy, where the public would at least have an accounting of the expenditure of its funds.

BUSINESS MEN BACK OF HEALTH BILLS AND OPPOSE UNION STREET RELOCATION

Business men as represented by the legislative committee of the combined business organizations went on record this morning as decidedly and vigorously in favor of the health bills that have been passed by the Senate, and also as vigorously opposed to the relocation of Union street that has been gum-shoed through to the House.

A meeting of the joint committee was held at ten o'clock this forenoon. Approval was given the health bills establishing beyond question the authority of the Board of Health in handling the poi shops and all other matters, including the garbage department.

Minor amendments in the tax bill were discussed and then the committee went unanimously on record as opposed to the relocation of Union street as is proposed in the bill that has already been quietly sneaked through the Senate while no one was paying any attention to it.

The general opinion seemed to be that Bishop street should be extended if anything was done and Union street possibly closed.

SIXTEEN BATTLESHIPS WILL BE SENT FROM ATLANTIC TO PACIFIC; HAWAII RECOGNIZED

Agitation for getting half of the American battleship fleet into the Pacific Ocean, in which Hawaii has taken a prominent part, will be successful, according to news that arrived from the Coast today.

The San Francisco papers have been informed by their Washington representatives that sixteen battleships will be sent soon. The Call of April 9 publishes the following from Washington:

WASHINGTON, D. C., Apr. 7.—That half of the American battleship fleet will be sent to the Pacific Ocean within the next year and will remain there until the opening of the Panama Canal in 1915 is the prediction of members of Congress as a result of information which is said to have leaked from the Navy Department.

Senator Perkins of California, chairman of the naval affairs committee, said tonight that while nothing definite had been decided, he and the other members of the California delegation have been urging the Navy Department to send sixteen battleships to the Pacific Ocean and had understood that Secretary Meyer would issue such an order when the fleet numbered 32 battleships.

Secretary Meyer of the Navy Department denied tonight that half of the fleet had been ordered to the Pacific Coast. He did not deny that such orders would be given.

"All that I need say is that there is no truth in the story," he asserted. Announcement was made, however, that the second division of the American Atlantic fleet will make a cruise in the Baltic either this spring or summer.

DEFENDS ARREST OF CRAIG

A defense of Hawaii's stand against the excursions of labor recruiters and the constitutionality of the laws enacted by the Legislature is contained in an answer filed in the Supreme Court this morning to the petition of a writ of habeas corpus in behalf of Frank B. Craig. The answer is filed by the firm of Kinney, Ballou, Prosser & Anderson in behalf of Sheriff Jarrett, the respondent and is published on page seven of today's issue of the Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Apr. 15.—Representative Everis A. Hayes of California today introduced in the House of Representatives a drastic immigration bill. Under its terms all Asiatics are excluded from the United States, no distinction of nationality or occupation being excepted. It is in line with previous bills the same Representative has introduced.

STANFORD EIGHTS WIN RACE FROM CALIFORNIA

(Special Bulletin Cable.)
OAKLAND, Cal., Apr. 15.—Stanford University won an easy victory today over the University of California in the annual boat races between the varsity and freshman eights of the two institutions. In the varsity race Stanford won by eight lengths, covering the three miles in 14 minutes 5 seconds. In the freshman race Stanford again won by eight lengths in 16 minutes.

The race rowed on Oakland Estuary this afternoon between the crews of California and Stanford is the big aquatic event of the coast and stands in the same relation as does the Oxford-Cambridge race in England and the Harvard-Yale race in the East.

The race today was conducted under the auspices of the student bodies of the two institutions.

California has been the winner five times previous to this year and Stanford has three wins to its credit. The California men showed up much better in practice than they did last year before the event, and the Stanford crew also came through harder.
